FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Wall street has been somewhat excited to-day by the wall street has been somewhat excited to day by the weak and unscitled aspect of the stock market, and the bulls are losing courage in about the same proportion as the bears are gaining strength. Money was borrowed in more abundant supply than yesterday, and terms were made freely at seven per cant, notwithstanding a weakening of the net legal tender reserve of the banks and a quarter. No relief was, however, experienced in the discount line, which is decidedly stringent. There cliques, as well as on the part of street during the last few days and bears put out contracts for future delivery with more boldness than they have done at any time since the late ey panic. The bull chiques have, however, still the power to twist the "shorts," if the latter are heavy enough to make the operation profitable, and therefore the bears will do well not to whistle till they are out of the woods. The market is, nevertheless, to some extent ene to buy stocks on, for it is liable to experience a furother hand, shows signs of increased firmness, and a speedy recovery from the recent depression is probable. It is semi-officially stated that the Treasury will enforce the demand for reclamation in the case of the spurious ing transactions were at 143%, following which there was a decline to 143%, and a recovery before the close to 144%. There was a brisk borrowing demand for coin. per cent per diem and at 7 per cent per annum in favor of the lender of the coin. The gross clearings amounted to $77,274,600, the gold balances to $889,900, and the currency balances to $1,540.955. The steamer Pereire ook out $83,282, and the City of Baltimore $10,500 in specie. Opinions in the Gold Room are about equally di-vided as to the future course of the market, but the strong houses are nearly all "long."

A Cincinna i journal of Thursday says of local money

In the general markets depression still rules the boar; the absence of river navigation and the stringency of the money market are two of the chief obstacles to trade; but the absence of the active demand for good which has been asticipated and prepared for is the great drawback. The money market is still close, and the offerings of paper are generally is excess of the ability of bankers to accommodate; but the demand was not quite as pressing to-day. The custom of merchants to buy goods largely in the Eastern markets is to keep their balances in New York, and so universal has this become that currency is comparatively scarce here all the time and rates of interest rule high even when money is a drug in New York.

The Comptroller of the Currency has written the following letter in answer to the question, is the receiving of parcels containing unknown values without charge, as generally practised by the banks, authorized and permitted by section 8, and if so, are the stockholders responsible for their safety?

I have no hositation in saying that, in my judgment.

ors responsible for their safety?

I have no hesitation in saying that, in my judgment, it is a firset transgression of the provisions of the National Currency act for a national bank to assume the custody and safe keeping of misceplaneous valuables. It is dangerous to the bank, and in the nature of a fraud upon the stockholders. If the valuables are jest through the carelessness of dishoneasty of a bank officer or clerk, the officers are undoubtedly liable; and if the practice has been sanctioned by the Board of Directors, they will be held liable; and as they are the agents of the stockholders in managing the affairs of the bank, I do not question but that the stockholders would in the end be required to make rood the resulting loss.

I think the custom a very hazardous one, and aball de all in my power to discourage it; and, under certain circumstances, might be compelled to proceed against a bank for the violation of its charter, a course which I hope may be avoided by voluntary action on the part of the banks.

PROJECTS OF THE ERIE RAILROAD CO.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE HERALD.

TROY, Oct. 18-6:25 P. M. Some facts have transpired here in reference to the recent meeting in New York city of the Eric Railroad corporation, and the elevation of Mr. John S. Eldridge to the Presidency of that opulent and important board, that it would seem are not generally known. The original object of the parties desiring a change in the general direction of the board was to secure the building of the Boston, Hartford and Eric Railroad from Hart-ford, Conn., to Fishkill, opposite Newburg, the termi-nation of one of the branches of the Eric Railroad in this State. The object desired to be accomplished by the corporators of the Erie in the construction of this new road is to so virtually extend the Erie road to Boston as to make it a competing line for all the business of the manufacturing regions of New England and the West, as well as to open a new the West, as well as to open a new line whereby to supply those sections with coal from the line of the Eric coal regions in Pennsylvania. This having been the real object of the meeting, its purport has been kept more or less a deep reated secret. Had the fact hitherto transpired, it would have awakened an immense and influential opposition from competing lines in the same business.

I may now remark, generally, that in order to accomplish this result it was necessary to have a strong New England element in the board, and to this end it was additionally necessary to wholly break up the old speculating board, fire only of whose members, out of seventeen, are retained. Hence the deposition of Mr. Burdell, the old Fresident, who had grewn funncially pinguid out of his connection with the corperation, became absolutely necessary, and, susstituting for him Mr. Eddridge, the present Fresident of the Boston, Hartford and Eric road, who is recognized as a very aftered shifty is the successful extrication of railroads from grievous embarrasments. There was evinced at the meeting a very strong desire to totally oust Mr. Daniel Drew from the board, on account of his stock speculations.

Mr. Drew was baddy beaten in the election, as was ap-the meeting a very strong desire to totally cost Mr. Daniel Drew from the board, on account of his stock speculations.

Mr. Brow was badly beaten in the election, as was apparent by his only securing five thousand out of about one hundred and hisely-four thousand votes. The new Beard of Directors, however, though it essentially unvise to detach him from the interests of the road, and thereby bring his whole wealth, influence and hostility in opposition to it, and thus leave the New England interests to sustain themselves against him. For this reason Governor Underwood, of Vagmont, voluntarily resigned his position in the Board to make way for Mr. Drew who was at once chosen Director and Treasurer. Although by this action it was intended to propitiste Mr. Drew's influence, nevertheless the action was measurably determined by an apprehension that, in the event of his non-election, he would at once commence to sell Erie stock short, and cause a panic in the market. In this fact is to be found a substantial reason for the significant silence of the New York Central folks as to the olots controlling the election, and the sudgen rising of the stock just subsequent to the issue of the selection would your to confirm this view. As things now stand, it is generally conceived that the policy controlling the late election will greatly enurs to the beneat of the Eric Railroad, namely, that indicated in the construc-tion of the new line to be known as the Hartford and Fishkill connection.

OBITUARY.

Colonel Adam Duncan Stewart, U. S. A.
The officer died at the New York Hotel, in this city, on Thursday last, the 17th instant. The deceased was a native of Virginia, in which State he was bern during the year 1796. He entered the service as a paymaster in January, 1853, and after passing through the various grades, was brovetted lieutenant colonel "for meritori-ous conduct while serving in the enemy's country" during the Mexican war. He held this rank until the 1st of February, 1855, when he resigned his commission of Missouri. At the outbreak of the rebellion he remained steadfast in his loyalty to the Union, and, on the Slat of May, 1861, was reappointed a paymaster of the army, with the rank of major. Subsequently he was promoted to his old rank of fleetenant colonel. He was an able and gallant officer, and his death will be much regretted by all who knew him.

Walter Chappell.

This venerable gentleman died at Wampsville, in this State, on the 12th inst. He was of the old Puritan stock, and was descended in a direct line from the Brewster family, of Mayflower celebrity. Mr. Chappell was born in Connecticut, in April, 1772, and had co requently attained the great age of ninety-five before his death. He cast a vote at every Presidential election from Washington's second term to Lincoln's last, Many years ago he removed to New York, where a numerous branch of his grandchildren and great-grandchildren now reside.

A REAL ROMANCE.

A REAL ROMANCE.

Denth of a Prussian Nobleman's Senteron the New Orieans Presyune, Oct. 13.]

Since the close of the late war many starting revelatious have been made in regard to the identity of privates or subordinate officers in both armies. The sons of noblemen, it is now known, fought unmuringly by the side of the commonest and most illiterate privates. Men whose early days, it may be, were spent in some old castin, and whose fathers prided themselves upon a grand, unspotted anoestry, endured is alwa and fought with splendid bravery for causes in which they had no interest. Family quarrels, early dissipation, or some times disappointment in love, were the causes which led to this voluntary axile from home and kindred.

Seeking oblivion in the tumult of an army, and happiest when the earth rembled to the thunder of artillery or squadrons met in headlong deadly charces, these strangers, fighting not for alory but for that repose which is found only in the praye, have illustrated some of the brightest pages of our history and excited the wonder of those who only saw stern, determined countenances, but read not the tumult that was raging in hearts the beat beneath the uniforms of bite or gray.

The death of Charles G. Sachow in this city, September 20, has brought to light another of these sad stories, intertwined with which is a thread of romance that gives it an additional interest. Since the death of Sachow, who even when dying refused to tell his true name or to give any clue to his history, General Mower has received a communication from a gentleman in St. Louis, who signs himself Valdemar Johnson, late Vice Consul at Maiamoros, Mexico, who, after making inquiries concerning the death of "his first, was taken the decased is an intimate friend of his, and studied jurisprudence at the same university. He believes himself to be the only one in this centry who knows Sachow's real name, or who is acquainted with his family, which is one of the best in Prussia, his father be ng an officer of high and a private principle, "how not to do it," is given by the financial department of the administration at Jefferson City, in the payment of the over due coupons of our Missouri State bonds. Our despate hes of last night show that there is a boggle of some description or other in New York, whereby the Bank of Commerce continues to use some twenty-nice hundred thousand dollars belonging to the creditors of this State. Will we ever get at the bottom of this kind of business Y—St. Lowis Republican, October 17.
